

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election sets a dangerous precedent. How can we maintain a democracy when a corporation with a political agenda starts controlling the airwaves by forcing their stations to promote their political agenda right before a presidential election?

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.